

Chief Intelligence Sergeant
Skill Level 6 (SGM)

The Chief Intelligence Sergeant serves as the principal enlisted assistant to commanders and heads of staff elements, and as staff NCO for major commands, in multi-echelon, joint and combined intelligence organizations; supervises intelligence surveillance, collection, analysis, processing, and distribution activities at all echelons. Supervises activities pertaining to organization and training of tactical and technical operations; coordinate operating requirements of subordinate units with major supported units; reviews, evaluates, prepares and executes intelligence asset(s), deployment, employment, and redeployment plans and orders; supervises intelligence operations in Corps and Echelon Above Corps (EAC) Analysis and Control Elements (ACE); reviews intelligence doctrinal publications and prepares recommended changes. Compares MTOE and TDA authorization documents with Intelligence missions and functions and recommends revisions. The purpose of the Chief Intelligence Sergeants Career Progression Plan is to inform Soldiers how their career and professional development should unfold. Attaining MOS 35X requires demonstrated potential in both technical skills and leadership abilities.

The critical assignment for SGM is G2 SGM (Div, Corps, and Army). Other important assignments are S3 NCOIC of a MI Bde, ACE NCOIC (Corps) and Deputy Chief of Staff, G-2 (DCS, G-2) SGM. MOS 35X can serve in the following position at this skill level: Chief Intelligence Sergeant, G2 SGM, G3 SGM, and USAICoE CSM. The following additional assignments should be considered demanding assignments: Special Mission Unit Operations/Troop SGM.
